

NAME WHIPPLE FOR PRESIDENT

Baraboo Man Heads the Southern Wisconsin Association of Teachers.

MADISON WON OUT

Miss Harriet Holt, a Janesville Teacher, is Made 2nd Vice President.

ADJOURNED AT NOON

Monroe, Wis., April 5.—(Special)—The election of officers at the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' association this morning was as follows:

President.—W. H. WHIPPLE, Baraboo, Wis.
First Vice President.—E. E. BRINDLEY, Soldiers' Grove, Wis.
Second Vice President.—HARRIET HOLT, Janesville.
Secretary.—W. H. HICKOCK, Burlington.
Treasurer.—C. G. BABCOCK, Dodgeville.
Reporter.—C. HEMMENWAY, Albany.
Recording Secretary.—C. W. SMITH, Kilbourn.
Committeeman.—E. C. PERISHO, Platteville.

Madison was chosen for the next meeting one year from date. Over one thousand people were present at the Hubbard lecture. The reception of citizens after the lecture at the New Armory was a success and over two thousand people were present. The teachers are delighted with the reception and the people are well pleased. It was a success from start to finish. The convention closed at 12:30 o'clock.

Monroe, Wis., April 5.—The first of the two days' of meetings of the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' association was marked by an address by Miss Julia C. Lathrop of Hull House, Chicago, who spoke on "Public Schools and Democracy." Among the other speakers of the day was W. G. Bruce of Milwaukee, who talked on the relationship of school boards and the superintendents, and Secretary John M. True of the state Board of Agriculture was another speaker. Elbert C. Hubbard delivered an address in the evening, which was heard by a large audience.

The afternoon session was devoted largely to the meetings of sections, at which subjects of interest to the various branches of school work were discussed in detail.

Reception Held Last Night
The final meeting of the association being held this morning, commencing at 9 o'clock, at Turner hall, when the election of officers will take place. Great interest is being shown in the election of president. The following candidates have been proposed: Superintendent H. A. Whipple of Baraboo, Professor E. C. Perisho of Platteville, F. M. Jack of Milwaukee, state graded school inspector, and Superintendent C. W. Rittenburg of Delavan.

A reception was tendered last night by the citizens of Monroe to the visitors at the armory. Music for this occasion was furnished by Mrs. Weggs' orchestra and a large crowd was present. The decorations were elaborate.

Events on Program Today

Among the important events on today's programme will be papers by Albert Salisbury, president of the Whitewater Normal school; Superintendent John H. Natrass, Shullsburg; L. D. Harvey, state superintendent of schools; George McKerrrow of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Madison; W. D. Hoard, Fort Atkinson, and Professor A. A. Upham, Whitewater. These last three gentlemen will speak on the advantages of an agricultural education from the standpoint of a practical farmer, a citizen, a teacher, respectively.

STRONG PLEA MADE FOR THE TEACHERS

About 3,000 Get Only $175 Per School Year—Claim They Are Much Underpaid.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—In an address on "Lessons for Institute Conductors in County School Visitation" during the conductors' school at Madison, Prof. J. W. Livingston of the Stevens Point normal school said:

"Do you know that 3,000 rural school teachers of Wisconsin are today getting less wages than are paid the kitchen girl in the city of Milwaukee? Yes, this is true of over 2,000 schools in Wisconsin, that a single merchant or mechanic pays more to the maid who cooks his children's daily food than is being paid by all the farmer fathers to the young women to feed their children morally and intellectually. Three thousand Wisconsin teachers get less than $25 a month. This means that for a school year of seven months the teacher getting this high figure receives $175 in cash. Let this country teacher pay her board for a year, putting it at the low rate of 10 cents a meal with bed and room thrown in free and she has left of her wages but $60, and from this pittance she must still take enough to purchase necessary books and clothes. What then has this country teacher left wherewith to make self-improvement?"

BELOIT TEAM IS AGAIN A WINNER

Won the Second of the Series from the Rockford Three—1 Team Yesterday Afternoon.

Beloit, Wis., April 5.—Notwithstanding that the college team was handicapped by the absence of Captain Brown it won the second of the series from the Rockford Three-league team yesterday by a score of 7 to 6, ending the game when the winning run came in with no one out. Crane pitched well and will work into a capable twirler.

Edward Merrill made one of the loveliest hits ever seen on Keep field, scoring a home run. The collegians team work was scarcely equal to that of yesterday, due probably to the absence of Captain Brown. The professionals batted in better form and their team-work was slightly superior. None of the league pitchers have put on sufficient steam to give any line on their probable actions this summer.

BADGER BUILDING AT ST. LOUIS FAIR

Site Has Been Selected and is in the Most Commanding Place on the Grounds.

St. Louis, Mo., April 5.—The site for the Wisconsin building at the World's Fair has been selected, subject to ratification by the board of commissioners of that state. It is situated to the south and west of the government building, which will occupy the most commanding site on the grounds. Next to it will be that of Missouri, then Illinois, Texas, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

S. A. Cook of Neenah, Wis., treasurer of the board of managers of the World's fair for the state of Wisconsin, and Dr. R. D. Rood of Stevens Point, Wis., secretary, arrived in the city yesterday and were in conference with F. J. V. Skiff, chairman of the committee on state and territorial exhibits, and Isaac S. Taylor, director of works, for the purpose of obtaining data relative to the plan and scope of the Louisiana purchase exposition.

WISCONSIN ASKS FOR $950,000

Big Sum Wanted for Public Buildings in Badger Cities—Bills Now in Committee.

Washington, D. C., April 5.—The house committee on public buildings is busily engaged in the preparation of an omnibus public building bill, and hopes to have it ready to report within a few weeks. Should the Wisconsin delegation receive all it is asking a sum total of $950,000 would fall to the share of the Badger state. Representatives Brown, Davidson, Jenkins, Babcock, Minor, Barnes, Cooper and Esch have introduced public building bills aggregating near to the $1,000,000 mark. The Wisconsin cities seeking appropriations for public buildings are: Wausau, $60,000; Fond du Lac, $100,000; Superior, $300,000; Baraboo, $60,000; Green Bay, $150,000; Wausau, $100,000; Kenosha, $10,000; Manitowoc, $75,000, and Eau Claire, $65,000.

INSURANCE MEN HAVE A PUZZLE

Big Fire Loss at Louisville, Ky., Involves a Minute or Two of Valuable Time.

Louisville, Ky., April 5.—An interesting insurance question has arisen in connection with the fire which yesterday destroyed the plant of the Louisville Lead and Color Company, and the warehouses of the Pease-Gault company. Insurance policies on the property amounting to $211,000 expired at noon yesterday, while the fire started at 11:59 a. m. The policies had been renewed on new lines substituted, but the question arises as to which list of policies is to make good the losses in the case of the policies that were replaced with others. A Louisville insurance agent was asked by telephone yesterday a few minutes after twelve o'clock noon to take a line on the lead and color plant. He was about to accept when he heard the alarm and learned that the lead and color plant was afire. The agent who had telephoned him knew nothing of the fire.

TOLLEPON TOLD A DELIBERATE LIE

Madison Boy Had Nothing to Do with the Bank Robbery at Cambridge, Wis.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—(Special)—A desire to get a reputation as a bad man and to make trouble for a number of acquaintances tempted Ted Christian Tollepou to make the state ment a week ago that he and five others, whom he named, attempted to rob the bank at Cambridge, on March 7. It has been learned positively that neither Tollepou nor Christian Tollepou, one of the men he implicated, was at Cambridge the night of the robbery. Christian Tollepou has just been arrested in Iron county where he has been at work four months. In court today Tollepou admitted that his former statement was a complete lie. All of the other defendants, four of whom had been in jail, were discharged while Tollepou was held on the charge of perjury.

BOY CONFESSES KILLING OLD MAN

Says He Was Urged by the Victim To Commit the Crime.

HE WANTED TO DIE

Clyde Felt, Aged 15, Murders Samuel Collins in a Cave in Utah.

WAS ASKED TO DO IT

Salt Lake, Utah, April 5.—Clyde Felt, 15 years old, declared to the police today that after long urging by Samuel Collins, an aged watchman, he had cut the old man's throat, killing him. Collins wanted to die, Felt said, and was afraid to kill himself. The story first told by Felt was that Collins had committed suicide. Today, however, the boy broke down completely and said he had cut Collins' throat in a little cave above warm springs, where Collins was employed as a watchman in the Wasatch mines, and after walling up the entrance with stones, buried the blood-stained clothes.

Early this morning Felt, with two policemen, climbed the hills to the vicinity of the cave to search for Collins' valise, which the boy said the old man had hidden the day of his death. Felt led the policemen up and down the hill side in an aimless manner for a time, and finally, stopping, admitted that the story of the valise was a myth, that Collins never had one, and that the crime had been committed by himself after Collins had begged of him for hours to commit the deed.

"He often asked me to do it," said the boy, "but I was afraid to. Finally I did. Then when he was dead I took off his clothes, threw the razor up on the bank, and walked in the cave."

From statements made by other boys in the neighborhood of the tragedy the police believe that young Felt's story has not been half told, and that behind the tragedy is a tale of moral degeneracy and a conspiracy among a number of young boys in the old man's power that finally culminated in Collins' death. A number of arrests will probably be made before night.

ADVANCE IN THE INSURANCE RATES

Alfred James Says Rates Are High Enough, But Commissions Should Be Reduced.

Milwaukee, April 5.—President Alfred James of the Northwestern National Insurance company says there is no need of people being frightened over the threatened raise of 25 per cent in insurance rates. Mr. James says it is a "very large scare but does not amount to much." He said that instead of being an advance of 25 per cent the advance on general business would not exceed five per cent. The advance, said Mr. James, is intended to have more effect on agents in Western Union territory than on the assured. He said: "In my opinion rates are high enough. The reduction should come in the expenses instead of an advance in rates. The expenses of doing business is altogether too large."

Mr. James said the companies should have gotten together a long time ago and agreed on a plan to reduce expenses. The public, generally, he said, would not accept the opinion of any man or body in regard to the proper rates. But under the existing conditions the companies think there is nothing to do but raise the rates. "The public," said Mr. James, "will not stand an arbitrary raise of rates, and the result will be that we will have a flood of fire insurance of Lloyds and mutual companies. The Northwestern has not issued any circular regarding a raise in rates and will not."

H. C. HIRCHEY WON AMERICAN HANDICAP

Minneapolis Man Gets First Prize and Money in the Kansas City Shoot.

Kansas City, April 5.—Hirshey of Minneapolis won the grand American Handicap shoot in the fifty-third round. Kansas City, April 5, 9 a. m.—The fourteen men who remained of those who tied at twenty-five birds in the Grand American Shoot off and who each killed ten more straight in the shoot off began this morning and will continue to shoot off the tie. At the end of the nineteenth round eight men were out, leaving six contestants.

PLANS TO RECEIVE PRINCE OF WALES

New York, April 5.—Plans for the reception of the Prince of Wales by the Chamber of Commerce on his assumed visit here are under way. They will not be made public until the official action is taken.

FOR AMERICAN SCHOLARSHIPS

Cecil Rhodes, in His Will, Remembers the United States.

PLANS RACE UNITY

Hopes for Ultimate Union of All English Speaking People of the World.

ALSO HELPS GERMANY

London, April 5.—Cecil Rhodes left a great part of his vast wealth to Great Britain and the United States. By the terms of his will, made public last night an endowment fund—estimated to amount to $10,000,000—was set apart for the foundation of sixty Oxford University scholarships for England and the British colonies, and nearly 100 scholarships for the United States—two for each state and territory in the union. The scholarships have a yearly value of $1,500 and are tenable for three years.

Mr. Rhodes also provided for fifteen scholarships for students in Germany, to be nominated by the Kaiser, for the reason that a "good understanding between England, Germany and the United States will secure the peace of the world."

Tests for the Students
The scholarships are to be given to students upon the following qualifications:

1. Literary and scholastic attainments.
2. Fondness for or success in many outdoor sports.
3. Qualities of manhood, such as truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and the protection of the weak, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship.
4. Exhibition during school days of moral force of character and instincts to lead and take interest in his school mates, for these latter attributes will likely in after life guide him to esteem the performance of public duties as his highest aim.

The will provides that the marks for the several qualifications should be awarded independently. For the first by examination, for the second and third on ballot of their fellow-students, and for the fourth on the report of the headmaster of the candidates' school.

Anglo-American Union

"Whereas, I desire to encourage and foster appreciation of the advantage which I implicitly believe will result from a union of the English speaking people, and to encourage in students from the United States of America, who will benefit from American scholarships to be established for reason above given at Oxford under this will an attachment to the country from which they sprang, but without, I hope, withdrawing them or their sympathies from the land of their adoption or birth."

The will directs the trustees to establish two American scholarships for each of the present states and territories of the United States.

LA FOLLETTE TO BE A HIGH MASON

Will Take Thirty-Second Degree at Milwaukee Next Week—Shrine Wants Him.

Madison, Wis., April 5.—Governor La Follette will be a thirty-second degree Mason next week, he having been passed upon and accepted as a candidate for the consistory, together with Judge Tarrant and forty-seven others. It is expected that the governor will also take the shrine degrees at the end of the week with the rest of the class. He is said to be in preparation for the trip over the hot sands of the Arabian desert.

Governor La Follette is an old mason, having been a member of a Madison blue lodge for a number of years. He is also a Knight Templar being a member of the Madison commandery.

The consistory session will last a week, beginning Monday afternoon, and the class of forty-nine will be the third largest in the history of the order in Wisconsin. Preparations are being made for the extraordinary social programs during the week. It is understood that the governor will be the class orator or the president of the class.

OLD HOME WEEK IN THE BAY STATE

Boston, April 5.—Old home week begins July 27, and thousands of the sons and daughters of the old Bay state will revisit their native state at that time. Every town from Cape Cod to the Berkshire Hills is making preparations to welcome and entertain them. Included among the visitors will be many from the west.

London, April 5.—The newspapers discuss at great length Rhodes' amazing educational bequest. They see in it a magnificent bid for the friendship of the United States.

BIG RAILWAY DEAL IS BEING FORMED

Union Pacific, St. Paul, Northwestern, and Rock Island Declared Likely to Unite in Some Manner.

New York, April 5.—Financials and other men closely connected with some of the largest railroad interests in this country said today there were strong indications that a railroad deal of some magnitude was in progress. The four roads which are said to be concerned in the deal are the Union Pacific, St. Paul, Northwestern and Rock Island.

What the nature of the deal was, those most likely to be accurately informed on the subject declined to state, but contented themselves with saying it is known there have been numerous conferences lately between Union Pacific and Rock Island officials, and that these two companies seemed to be working in harmony, and that they would not be much surprised if some announcement were made in a few days.

TOWN OFFICERS HOLD THE CASH

Retiring Town Officers at Hayward, Wis., Refuse to Allow Successors to Open Safe.

Hayward, Wis., April 5.—The newly elected town board is in possession of the offices of town clerk and treasurer, but the retiring officials refuse to open the safe containing the books and cash. The newly elected town chairman sent for an expert to open the safe doors but the sheriff and his deputies interfered. The chairman has given the sheriff until this noon to show his authority, the safe will then be opened.

TOBACCO INDUSTRY KEEPS ON GROWING

Census Bureau Gives Official Figures on Establishments in Business During the Year 1900.

Washington, D. C., April 5.—The census office has issued a preliminary report regarding the manufacture of tobacco in the United States, which shows the number of establishments to be 15,252, an increase of 31 per cent over 1890. The capital invested is $124,089,371, an increase of 29 per cent. The average number of wage earners is 142,277, the wages amounting to $49,852,484, an increase of 12 per cent. The total value of the products, including custom work and repairing is $283,076,546. The miscellaneous expenses are placed at $79,496,422, an increase of 111 per cent over 1890.

HE SOUGHT DEATH IN THREE WAYS

Walworth County Farmer Fires His Barn, Hangs in It, and Then Shoots Himself.

Whitewater, Wis., April 5.—Fearing that death would not result from a pistol wound, that he could not kill himself by hanging or burning the structure over his head, Thomas Finney, Jr., of Cold Springs, tried all three methods at once yesterday and succeeded in ending his life.

He was a farmer, unmarried and 45 years old. No cause is given for the act.

The dead man selected his barn as the place for the scene of his self-destruction. It is supposed that he set fire to the barn, suspended himself from the rope's end, and to make sure of death fired a bullet into his body.

BISHOP STRIKES FROM SHOULDER

Fowler of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Shows the Faults of the Ministers.

Chicago, April 5.—Bishop Fowler of the Methodist Episcopal church, who addressed a class of young preachers at the Methodist conference yesterday said: "If you should ask me to decide between the man with no religion and common sense and the man with religion and no common sense, I should take the common sense. It is the business sense which is going to win in our work. There is too much of the goody-goody principle and the 'Hear, Lord,' idea among people nowadays. Too many people think they will be received in the kingdom of heaven if they have their shoes blackened and their faces cleaned, but they are wrong. I like a man with a good skeleton—a man who can stand up straight. If he has not a good skeleton he caves in like a bag of wind. There is a vast difference between sanctification and 'crankification.' A man says no one in his house except his wife has religion, and he is in doubt about her, that is 'crankification.' Sanctification is charity."

"Don't bring the church a preacher so dry that if you bore a gimlet hole in him the sawdust will run out. The greatest devil that fights the Methodist church is laziness. If we put as much work into our ministry as the average business man puts into his business we shall win."

Bishop Fowler said it was better to steal a good sermon and acknowledge it than to preach dry ones all the time.

LIVELY WEEK IN CONGRESS

Payne's Reciprocity Bill Will Cause a Hot Debate.

THE CHINESE BILL

Oleo Makers Gain a Point in the Senate Amendment Added to House Bill.

PLAN FOR CORTELYOU

Washington, D. C., April 5.—Next week promises to be the banner week in the house. The program contemplates the discussion of the Payne Cuban reciprocity bill. An attempt will be made by the democrats to amend the bill so as to open the subject of tariff revision but the chairman will rule all such amendments out of order.

Some of the beet sugar republicans will seek the adoption of amendments abolishing the differential on refined sugar, but of course the procedure will be the same. If there should be any spare time during the week the Chinese exclusion bill will be taken up.

This measure will occupy every afternoon in the senate next week. An unusually large number of senators desire to make speeches on this measure and even the friends of the bill scarcely expect to reach a vote on it during the week. The impression is that the senate's action on the question will be confined to the extension of laws now on the statute books.

George Cortelyou, secretary of the president, is slated for the secretaryship of the department of commerce as soon as the bill creating that department becomes a law.

Washington, April 5.—An exceptionally important amendment was added to the oleomargarine bill before it passed the Senate. Apparently those having the measure in charge did not appreciate its importance, as it was accepted without debate or opposition. The amendment was framed by Senator Foraker of Ohio. It provides that instead of imposing a tax of 10 cents a pound upon oleo colored in imitation of butter the tax shall be collected upon oleomargarine "artificially" colored in imitation of butterine. The modification promises to throw the bill into a deadlock. Representative Henry of Connecticut, who is leading the dairy forces in the House, declared that the restriction of the prohibitive tax to "artificially" colored oleomargarine would destroy the object of the bill.

CAME NEAR THEIR DIAMOND WEDDING

Sherman R. Hopkins, Living Near Appleton, Died Yesterday, Ninety-four Years Old.

Appleton, Wis., April 5.—Sherman R. Hopkins of the town of Dale died yesterday, aged 94 years. His death follows close upon that of his wife who died two weeks ago, aged 93 years. Had they lived until May 24 the couple would have celebrated their diamond wedding.

At the time of Mrs. Hopkins' death they were, so far as is known, the oldest living married couple in the United States. That this is true there is little doubt for after an exhaustive effort made recently by the deceased he was unable to find any record of a longer married life than he and Mrs. Hopkins enjoyed. They were early settlers of Milwaukee and went to that city in 1836 when West Water street was a boggy tamarack swamp.

MINNESOTA RENEWS WAR ON MERGER

Begins Suit in Courts of the State Against Combination—J. J. Hill Is Served.

St. Paul, Minn., April 5.—James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway and of the Northern Securities company was today served with papers in the suit brought by the state of Minnesota against the merger of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads in the Northern Securities company. W. R. Douglas and M. D. Munn are the solicitors for the complainant and George P. Wilson is of counsel.

The prayers at the ending of the recital of facts are those which have been heretofore published. The court was asked to make orders restraining the merger as contrary to law, from the interchange of stock, from interference by one road with another road, and from the right of one set of directors to vote in the other corporation. The recital in this new case is almost identical with that in the former case before the United States Supreme court, after which the plaintiff prays.

Dennville, Ind., April 5.—The bank of Pennville was burglarized this morning. It is believed that the robbers secured three thousand dollars.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB AT COURT ST. CHURCH

One of the Best Entertainments of Its Kind Ever Given in This City.

The concert given by the glee and mandolin clubs from Lawrence university at court street M. E. church last evening was one of the best entertainments of its kind ever given in the city and attracted a large and admiring audience. The boys from Appleton are certainly artists in the line and each number on the program was rendered so well that it received its well merited applause. The boys certainly paved the way for an ovation if they ever play a return engagement in the city.

The ushers for the occasion were young ladies of the church and they did their work well.

The club is composed of twenty bright young men from the University and while it may not succeed in making money for the organization, it is a good advertisement for the school. Next to the state university, Lawrence stands at the front, and its patronage is increasing every year. The atmosphere of the school is wholesome and many church going people patronize it, feeling that the environments are safe and knowing that the advantages are not unequalled.

The young men of the Glee club represent a variety of talent and give evidence of careful training. While the program was largely musical it was interspersed with character sketches by Mr. Lean. As an impersonator Mr. Lean displayed talent of high order. The vocal solos were well rendered and the entertainment was choice in every respect.

MAGAZINES.

He Believed in Discipline.

Jacob Rills relates an incident about General Grant which shows the latter's good sense and true greatness. Says Mr. Rills, "One night at a fire in New York, I saw, muffled to the ears in an overcoat, a man whom I immediately recognized as General Grant. The policeman who blocked his way did not. He grabbed him by the collar, swung him about, and hitting him a resounding whack across the back with his club, yelled out, 'What's the matter with you? Don't you see the fire lines? Chase yourself out of here, and be quick about it!'"

"The General said never a word. He did not stop to argue the matter. He had run up against a sentinel, and when stopped went the other way. That was all. The man had a right to be there; he had none. I was never so much of an admirer of Grant as since that day. It was true greatness. A smaller man would have made a row, stood upon his dignity, and demanded the punishment of the policeman."—April Woman's Home Companion.

President Roosevelt's Mother.

The mother of a President of the United States is always an object of special interest and regard on the part of the people. But in all that has been written about Mrs. Roosevelt last September there has been little or no mention about his mother. On this account, and because she was a remarkably fine and lovely woman, much interest attaches to an article on "The President's Mother," which will appear in The Ladies Home Journal in the near future. It will be the first story of her life yet told, and will be one of the series of articles, the first of which is published in the current number of the Journal, on the President and his family. Miss Alice Roosevelt is the subject of this. Next month "The Outdoor President" will be told of, and later the President's wife and family will be portrayed.

Editor Gazette: Will you please publish the following notice: Last Saturday evening two South Side women got into a fight on South Main street. One of the contestants is circulating the story that it was Alta Phelps. Will you please contradict that report. It was a woman of the same name and not Alta Phelps as reported. And oblige,
MISS ALTA PHELPS.

Russian Literature.

Russian literature, which for the last half a century has abounded in surprises, has again made manifest its wonderful power of innovation. Nothing as individual, as freshly spontaneous in thought and character as the work of Maxim Gorky has been produced since the first novels of Tolstol. Gorky's work owes nothing to its predecessors; it stands apart and alone. Of his many short stories, Malva is regarded by the literary world of Europe to be his strongest work. Twenty-Six and One has been hailed as one of the most exquisite stories that has been written since the late Guy de Maupassant laid down his pen. In Russia it was published with the sub-title A Prose Poem. It is under the title of Twenty-Six and One, that three of Gorky's stories, translated from the Russian by Herman Bernstein and others, have been issued by J. F. Taylor & Co. The three stories which have been chosen are Twenty-Six and One, Tchelkache, and Malva—Tchelkache, the tale which first gave Gorky a place in the foremost rank of the story writers of all his tales; and Twenty-Six and One, the prose-poem, which will give the name to the volume. The preface by Ivan Strannik is a valuable addition to this volume of stories, which have never before been issued in this country.

BACHELOR'S AND SPINSTERS.

More of the Former than the Latter
In This Country.

At last there are more bachelors than spinsters in this country. The female portion of our communities will be interested in this fact, which has resulted from the census of 1900. Now, it has always been popularly supposed that the spinsters predominated, and this current belief has been as a thorn in the side of a woman, for the mere existence of a bachelor or spinster, for the intelligent curiosity of the gentler sex, an explanation. Without the explanation, he is in himself, as it were, an eloquent reflection upon the charm of woman-kind, and every woman in her own person presents a slight to the sisterhood.

Now that the census has cleared the question of false statistics, and the residual fact remains that the bachelors predominate, it becomes incumbent upon us to inquire why this is so. And the inquiry having proceeded beyond the first statement of the case, we find as ever, that woman is the guilty party! For with the known inconsequence of the sex, it is she who is consciously and voluntarily responsible for the predominance of the unmarried man. We learn that the fashionable matron deliberately makes him her pet—that she has so systematically performed this rite over him that his species has been separated into kinds of which "the corner man," the "dancing man," "the dinner man," etc., are the best known and most carefully cultivated varieties.

So highly considered and so actively in demand, so dined and whined, are these popular unmarried men, that their personal expenses are reduced to a minimum, and they become among men even as the lilies of the field. They are, so to speak, the supernumeraries in the drama of life, to be engaged as occasion requires. And woman, dear, delightful, impetuous, generous but unreflecting woman, is the stage manager who is hoist by her own petard. While, therefore, the census of 1900 possesses for woman, as we have intimated, unusual interest, it is also replete with threatening possibilities which must give her pause.

Carnegie-Frick Deal.

During the great steel fight of 1900, when Messrs. Carnegie and Frick were at odds, Mr. Dill got the chance that came to few men. He was ready for it. Word reached New York that papers in the celebrated suit had been drawn, and that Wall St. would be shaken by unexpected disclosures. Manders became very anxious, well knowing that such hostilities meant general commercial disturbance. A conference was called at Atlantic City. Mr. Dill was summoned. In the words of an attendant at that memorable meeting: "Dill took in the situation at a glance. Going straight to Mr. Carnegie, Dill asked him to write out his views and note what he wanted. He did so. Mr. Frick did the same thing. Taking both memoranda, Mr. Dill locked himself in his room and did some hard thinking. Brushing aside non-essentials, he busied himself with what was vital. Then he got both gentlemen to agree to let him settle the dispute and within a few days he showed each how the company could be recognized on lines satisfactory to all. It meant several millions more for both Mr. Carnegie and Mr. Frick; so Mr. Dill's suggestion was accepted as the solution of a very difficult problem. Had the fight continued and the whole matter been rehearsed in the courts, no one knows how serious the consequences might have been."—The World's Work.

Edith Hutchins in "The Burgomaster."

The bright particular stars in the presentation of "Miss Bob White" at the Myers Grand last night were Rich and F. Carroll and Frank Dethon, two young New York club men who are forced to cross the state of Pennsylvania as tramps through losing an election bet, according to the story. These two actors were certainly very original and unique in their funny business and they kept the house in a laugh every moment they occupied the stage. "Miss Bob White" is in the same class as those popular modern plays, "Florodora," "Hells of New York," and "The Climbers," which have proven so popular with theater goers the past year or two. The music is stirring and the vaudeville is all that could be expected.

Marguerita Sylva is a graceful pretty woman with a flashing dark eye, and the whitest teeth, but her singing was only medium. In this latter she was distanced by Alice L. Campbell, who acted as "Golden Rod," daughter of the Quaker farmer. The rest of the cast was fairly competent. The scenery was magnificent, and the large audience thoroughly enjoyed the laughable production.

On Saturday evening and matinee April 12, the Burgomaster will be at the Myers Grand. The Burgomaster has twice been given in this city and each time it was received and accorded great applause. The play and players will be different from the others seen here.

On Friday evening next the Beloit College Glee club will be at the Myers Grand and give a program of excellent musical numbers. The Glee club has a reputation as good as any attraction of this kind on the road.

MODERATE BUYING OF THE 1901 CROP

A moderate amount of buying continues throughout the growing districts in the southern portion of the state, which is continually reducing the amount of unsold goods in farmer's hands. It is quite probable that a good many thousand cases are quietly being lifted each week of the medium quality goods at prices much below what they have been held for months past.

The market for cured leaf is extremely quiet, both locally and in the eastern centers, and no transactions of importance have reached us.

Quite liberal deliveries have come to the warehouses of the local packing points and a vast amount of tobacco yet remains in the bundle to be handled, which will prolong the season well into warm weather.

The shipments out of storage reach but 400s from this market to all points for the week past. Six hundred cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York since last report.—Edgerton Reporter.

New Work for Women's Clubs.

There can be no doubt that the most significant work of the past four years is the growing interest of the women of the Federation in the women and children who are wage-earners in America. By means of this step we seem to say, our work heretofore has been for others, now we propose in the broadest sense to work with others, says Rebecca Douglas Lowe, president of the National Federation of Woman's Clubs in the April Pilgrim.

The great service we have rendered in the industrial problem is a suggestive one. Whatever else we may do for the wage-earning women, we shall do most when we bring to her this message of organization, which shall help her to help herself, the eradication of women into the professional and industrial world has been so suddenly accomplished that they are unadjusted to their environment. They have had no time to reason out their own position in the world of wage-earners, nor have economic specialists thrown any light on the subject. Woman, earning wages by work outside the home, is a phenomenon, which has just awum within the ken of the political economist, who only gazes at the spectacle, forbearing to re-adjust his calculations to take her in. With more than 1,000,000 wage-earning women in America, we must grant her problem and strive to find a rational adjustment of it.

Can the Federation perform a greater service for the wage-earning woman than to place in her hands the weapon of organization, with which she, too, may win her way to life, liberty and possession of happiness?

The talisman that has brought club work to present development is service, and no other work can carry us on.

HE HEARD A VOICE.

The house was so still, that the silence seemed oppressive. It was three o'clock in the morning, and after strapping up the grip that he had been packing, Johnnie went to the window, and pushing up the sash, sat down on the sill and looked out across the garden, and familiar fields beyond. It was a bright starlight morning and all nature seemed so peaceful that the boy lingered, wondering why it was that his heart beat so fast, and then it came to him, that if he carried out his plan and ran away from the old home, the only one that he had ever known, that he might be taking his last look at the scenes that had grown into his life from childhood.

His lot was not the most pleasant. Farm life was a drudgery, and he hated it, and he had long since resolved that some day he would get away from it, and out in the great unexplored world, find some occupation that would be more congenial. His father was a hard task master, and did not appreciate the boy's ambitions, and the invalid mother needed him so much that she failed to realize that the boy was restless, and chafing under restraint. But the mother was every thing to the boy and as he sat in the window with mind absorbed in conflicting emotions, a voice that startled him, said "stay by your duties, John." He looked in vain for the speaker, and then he discovered that his better self was contending for the mastery. Argue the question as he would, any attempt to defend his proposed action, was met by the silent voice urging to duty, and when he closed the window, the victory was won, because he obeyed the voice of duty.

The little experience which came to the boy in the early morning, when duty and inclination were at warfare, is being repeated in manifold ways every day. In the history of human experience, the notion is all too common, that the prevailing influences of life are bad. That the forces of evil are the dominant forces in every community, if not in every life. The notion is false, and not entitled to much consideration. The bad in humanity, as well as in community, is usually on the surface, and so conspicuous that it is readily discovered. The man who commits murder, or any other crime against society, is the exceptional man. His deed attracts more attention than a thousand good deeds, because it is exceptional. The state population of prisons and reformatories is less than 1,000 out of a population of 2,000,000, and while it may be true that all criminals are not convicted and punished, it is true, that a majority of them are.

The man who fails in business through dishonesty, is the exceptional man. His failure is heralded far and wide, because it is out of the ordinary. The average business man who is honest, attracts no attention, because he is in normal condition. The laws of the land, so far as crime is concerned, are obeyed, not through fear, but because of wholesome respect, and love for the right.

The same conditions are largely true, so far as moral laws are concerned. There is no legal restriction or no prescribed penalty. A man may become a drunkard or abstain as he will, he may be a gambler or not, as he chooses. A woman may lead a virtuous life, or may become dissolute and none may question her right of choice; and while drunkenness is all too prevalent, and other violations of moral law are all too frequent, the fact remains, that, chastity, sobriety and general observance of unwritten law, is the rule and not the exception.

What is true in this respect, in this land of Christian civilization, is true in greater or less degree, of every land. The standard of morality may be low, and in great need of enlightenment, but no nation can long exist, where the right is not recognized.

The Greater and preserver of nations, never abandons them, and the same voice that came to the boy in his solitude, and through its persuasive influence, held him to duty is the heritage of every life in every land.

The standard of right may not be the American standard. The voice may not be recognized as the voice of conscience, but it has been speaking to humanity ever since the first man listened to it in the Garden, and it will continue to speak while time endures.

This still small voice, so potent for good, is the great power behind all law in every realm of human experience. It is the controlling influence of individual life and society in all its complex environments. Society is simply a community of individuals. Public sentiment on any question, is simply individual sentiment crystallized. Opinions may differ on many minor questions, but where right and wrong is involved, the right prevails.

because directed by a single voice, with a single purpose. The statute books of every state, are loaded with laws that have to do with moral questions, because public sentiment prompted by a desire to do right, enacted them. These laws may not all be operative, but that is because they are in advance of moral courage to enforce them.

The voice of God is intensely personal. It comes to the ear of every mind, and is no respecter of persons or conditions. It has no synagogue and is not hampered by creed or environment. It is a persistent voice adapting itself to the mind of the child, at the dawning of reason, and a close companion through all the years and down to the verge of time. It comes to the young man as he wakes up from a drunken stupor, disgusted with himself, and whispers of reform and better life. He may not heed it, but that is not the fault of the voice. It arrests attention when the mind is contemplating schemes of meanness, or deeds of violence, and if heeded, a victory is won.

Sometimes the voice is startling in distinctness, as was the case with the boy in the window. Many years ago a young man, who was honest in purpose, but mistaken in zeal, started out from an oriental city, with passports, authorized to persecute and kill if necessary, a religious sect with which he did not agree. On the way he was interrupted by a voice, accompanied by a demonstration, that felled him to the ground. When he arose he was stricken with blindness, but he recognized the voice that was speaking to him, as the voice of God, because it was a familiar voice that he had listened to oft before. Saul, of Tarsus, became the Paul of Macedonia, not because of any change in the voice that directed him, but because of enlightenment that dawned upon him like a vision, changing the current of life, and transforming him as by magic. He sacrificed nothing in zeal in intensity, but when his eyes were opened, his mental and spiritual vision was quickened and he became a new man.

Many people outside the pale of Christian churches, attempt to relieve themselves of responsibility, by claiming that they are as good or better than church adherents, and if not, they are not accountable, as they make no pretensions. This argument may be satisfying to the individual, but it lacks logic, or the first elements of common sense.

While a church membership may increase obligations, it does not absorb them. The same voice that speaks to the man in the pew, speaks to the man behind the bar or to the woman who never sees the inside of a church. The voice is not a church voice. It has nothing to do with creeds or sanctuaries, those are matters of judgment and individual preference. The voice that always pleads for the right, is a universal voice, touching humanity at every point. The responsibility of heeding or ignoring this voice rests with the individual. He may be in a church or a thousand leagues removed.

In the wind up of life, when friends are helpless and skill is defied, it will not be a question of church or creed, but the simple question, "did you hear the voice and have you given heed?" It is well for humanity to recognize the fact that there is a God, and that his voice, always persuasive, is constantly pleading for the right.

The Milwaukee Free Press, the recognized organ of the governor, is so elated over the defeat of the republican party in Milwaukee, that its columns are loaded with congratulations. This is very significant and many good republicans, who admire the governor, are asking the question, "where are we at?" The Free Press is a republican organ of modern type.

The State Senate, of Iowa, has passed a merger bill that is said to be satisfactory to the railroads. If the house concurs, there may be some hope for Iowa. The state has wasted much of its energy in fighting corporations.

Mayor Low, of New York, is making a desperate effort to reform the city, and is likely to succeed. The police department is being thoroughly overhauled and the Sunday laws enforced.

The horse whip is coming into popular favor. Zella Timms, of Indiana recently attacked a farmer, who she claimed had insulted her, and led him in a merry chase. The farmer claimed that he had never seen the woman before.

The "Olea" bill is likely to become a law, unless the house refuses to concur in the senate measure. Congress appears to be in the mood for class legislation, and there may be some hope for the ship subsidy measure. One is as reasonable as the other.

F. H. Hall, the efficient superintendent of the Illinois State School for Blind has resigned for political reasons and will be succeeded by Prof. Freeman.

There is one less youthful pugilist. Jimmie White of Philadelphia, died as the result of a ring contest Thursday.

Fond du Lac is rejoicing over a republican victory. The city is noted for conservative republicanism and fusion with democracy is not popular.

Christmas, the Danish representative in the island transfer, has gained some heap notoriety, but his charges will prove groundless.

PRESS COMMENT.

Catholic Citizen: A community gets about the kind of local government it deserves, and the re-election of Mayor Rose indicates that he is the type of politician that a majority of the people of Milwaukee want. And the preference is a strong one when a city that McKinley carried by over 6,000 plurality gives this democratic mayor nearly 8,000 plurality. Of course, the result of Tuesday's election almost ensures Rose's nomination on the Democratic ticket in the fall; and of course, if La Follette is renominated by the Republicans, the great corporate interests will combine to elect Rose if they can.

Waukesha Freeman: When the friends of the state administration attempt to convey the impression that Senator Whitehead is but a play candidate for gubernatorial honors, it is apparent that the wish is the father of the thought. The Rock Co. senator is inclined to playfulness when occasion demands but the present conditions call for serious action and his candidacy is in all seriousness. And his nomination and election will bring harmony to the Republican party very promptly.

Superior Telegram: It was a very stormy day for Storm Bull of Madison. Although supported by the press of both parties he met definite defeat. The Republican organization was compelled to buy space in both papers, which it did—three columns daily in each—and edited it in the interest of the republican candidate who won out.

Fond du Lac Reporter: Dowie has solved the cause of smallpox to his own satisfaction. He says the disease is spread by the devil. As Dowie has a number of patients suffering from the malady, it is possible that he may be right in his supposition, as the devil is said to be particularly partial toward men who assisted him in his work.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: It is to be regretted that Rose was re-elected in Milwaukee, but the responsibility for that happening will be placed where it belongs very largely, on the men who knifed Anson to help another candidate. This knifing business is poor politics and will react every time, much to the discomfort of those responsible for it.

Grant County Herald: Madison elected a Republican mayor, J. W. Groves. The State Journal, a La Follette organ receiving eight or ten thousand dollars a year from state for printing, held the ticket but failed in its attempt to defeat the Republican nominee.

Grant Co. Witness: Senator Whitehead is a man of force, character and clear headedness. He is not what may be denominated a wily and shrewd wire-pulling politician, subverting the people's interests to personal political ambition. He will make a safe leader.

Edgerton Reporter: The fifteen reasons which Bro. Wilder of the state Journal discovered why the democratic candidate Mayor Bull, should be elected mayor of Madison weren't good ones, or John Groves wouldn't have been elected by over 500 votes.

Milwaukee News: Henry Watterson seems to be laboring under the hallucination that the Democratic party is expecting him to dig up the paramount issue before the ground thaws out.

La Crosse Republican & Leader: John W. Groves will not be mayor but he has added to his reputation as a hustler.—Madison Journal.

And to the reputation of Dr. Wilder as a political Jonah.

Milwaukee Journal: Gov. La Follette was a great constitutional lawyer when he vetoed the Frost mortgage bill, but he lost his end, so to speak, when he signed the Overbeck ice bill.

Racine Journal: That ice tax melted away with the clear reasoning of the supreme court. Another La Follette reform dashed.

Milwaukee Journal. Mr. Overbeck's ice bill certainly neither cuts ice nor bothers those who do.

PROBABLY NOTHING BUT A BIG FAKE

An Actress of "The Climbers" Company Practices an Old Advertising Dodge on Janesville.

It is alleged that during the action of the play of "The Climbers" last Tuesday night someone entered one of the dressing rooms and stole three rings belonging to one of the leading ladies, Miss Marion Groux. She claimed at the time to have lost three rings, a ruby, a diamond and a marquise, which she placed a value on as high as $1,500. She claimed to have left them in her room during an act and when she returned they were missing. Complaint was made to Manager Myers and to Chief Hogan who at once took up the search for the missing gems.

The company played the next night at Rockford and passed through here again from that place. During the time that the company was at Rockford Chief Hogan interviewed the stage hands and others that were on the stage that night and came to the conclusion that none of them had the faintest inkling of any missing rings. He also found that during the play the lady had sent one of the stage hands out for a bottle of whiskey. Whether or not she imbibed too strongly of this beverage was unable to say but he thought that it might be responsible for the missing jewelry.

When the company passed through from Rockford the chief interviewed four of the men in the company and only one of them had ever seen any rings upon the lady's hand and he had only seen one. They seemed to be inclined to take the whole thing with a considerable grain of salt. As for the fact that some one tried to enter the rooms at Rockford the men said that there are always a certain number of "Peeping Toms" around every theater and that no importance could be attached to that.

In view of all these facts, Chief Hogan attaches little belief upon the loss and believes that if she did miss any rings she merely misplaced them and was probably not able at the time to remember where. He says that there is not the slightest ground for suspicion of any of the employees of the Opera House. In fact the whole thing is probably a hoax as it is the first time on record that an actress when losing any jewels did not make more noise about it and see the police herself. She had plenty of time to see him after she came from Rockford, but remained out of sight.

DOCTORS TO MEET IN MILWAUKEE

State and National Eclectic Medical Associations Will Hold Convention in June.

The conventions of the Wisconsin and National Eclectic Medical Associations in this city next June will be among the most important held in Milwaukee this year. The state association will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary in connection with its gathering, also making the entertainment of the national association a feature.

The National Eclectic Medical association begins its convention at the Hotel Pfister June 17. There will be at least 275 to 300 delegates, and this number may be exceeded according to the prospects at this time.

A feature of this convention will be the gathering of the Ladies' Auxiliary, numbering in membership nearly as many as the medical association and this auxiliary will hold no business sessions. The Wisconsin "auxiliary" will make a specialty of entertaining them, the officers having requested a large attendance from the state for this purpose.

The officers of the national body are as follows: President, W. Johnson, Antonio, Texas; secretary, F. Ellingwood, Chicago; corresponding secretary, W. A. Graves, Chicago; treasurer, W. T. Gemmill.

The Wisconsin Homeopathic society today announced that its annual meetings will be held in Milwaukee, May 21. About 150 will attend. The National Osteopathic society will meet here Aug. 6, 7 and 8. The attendance will be seventy-five.

ART DEPARTMENT OF ART LEAGUE

Bridge of Venice was the Subject of The Meeting at Home of Mrs. Mary Merrill

The Art Department of the Art League held its 11th regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Merrill yesterday afternoon at the usual hour, with a fair attendance. Mrs. Nellie Sanborn presented a paper on the oldest and most noted, "Ponte di Rialto" and until about the middle of the 19th century the only bridge on the Grand Canal.

Mrs. Waddle gave a good description of the "Ponte di Soapiri" (Bridge of Sighs) and Mrs. Day read one of Wm. Curtis' interesting letters which appear in the Record Herald daily, written from Italy.

Nels Carlson Has Bought an Interest, and Burned Machine Shop Will Be Replaced.

Nels Carlson, the well-known merchant and business man has purchased the interests of Frank B. Strickler in the Rock River Machine Co., and the first steps toward the rebuilding of the foundry burned about five weeks ago were taken today when workmen were set at work clearing away the debris.

The officers of the new company are R. H. Morris, president; G. W. Marsden, vice president, and Nels Carlson, treasurer. The first work of the company is the shipping out of such stock and was on hand at the time of the fire and was stored in the three story warehouse on the river bank, which did not burn.

Several large machines are being placed on the first floor of the warehouse where the machine shop will be located. Some smaller machines will be placed on the second floor of this building.

Just as soon as the debris can be cleared away a large new foundry will be erected on the site of the burned building. No plans have been drawn but the plans of the company are to erect a larger building than the other.

Nels Carlson, the new member of the company, is no novice in the foundry business, he having worked fifteen years in one. His father built and conducted a foundry where the Machine Co. is located. Mr. Carlson also worked a number of years for the Janesville Machine Co., before engaging in the meat business.

A Novel Way of Capture.
The pet monkey of a German professor, having made his escape, climbed into a tree and defied all attempts to catch him. Well knowing the imitative habits of the animal, his master hit on a curious plan to regain his pet. He looked at the monkey through an opera glass, pointing the small end at him, for some time, and then he retired to a short distance, leaving the opera glass on the ground. The imitative monkey descended from the tree and, taking the opera glass, gazed after a similar manner at his master, who seemed to the deluded ape to be half a mile distant. The monkey, still looking through the same end of the opera glass, supposed his master was several hundred yards distant when the latter, reaching out, secured the chain and led him back to his cage.

DUEL TO THE DEATH.

Gorilla and Man Have Feroceous Struggle for Twenty Minutes in Marcellus "Zoo."

According to a French correspondent of the New York World, a strange duel was fought lately in the Marcellus "Zoo" between the only adult gorilla in Europe and his keeper. The gorilla was killed after a fight lasting 20 minutes, in which the keeper was so horribly mangled that he died five hours later.

The famous gorilla was named Francisco. He was one of the largest species, and always had been perfectly tractable, showing especial affection for his keeper, a man named Journoux, until the latter married a few weeks ago.

The bride visited the Zoo often, and the gorilla was very sensitive about the attention she showed him.

When he perceived that she undoubtedly preferred his keeper Francisco became more and more jealous, and finally Journaux found it impossible to approach the gorilla, especially if Mme. Journaux was in sight.

Two days ago Francisco was so surly and quiet that the keeper thought he was sick and entered the cage to comfort his former pet.

The gorilla immediately sprang upon his hated rival. Journaux held a short tinner's fork, which alone accounts for the fight lasting so long.

It being dinner time, all the other keepers had withdrawn to a distant shanty. Only three children witnessed the terrible fight, and they were so terrified they failed to fetch help until Journaux had succeeded in escaping from the cage.

The gorilla followed before the door could be shut, and the duel continued outside from one end of the building to the other, as is shown by the blood stains.

Finally the children ran away yelling.

By the time help arrived the gorilla had been killed.

The keeper was found with one eye torn out, rapidly losing blood from many wounds and laboriously trying to crawl away on all fours. One hand had been completely chewed off and the lower lip and part of the chin had also been bitten.

WOMAN

IS LIKE A DELICATE MUSICAL INSTRUMENT

In good condition she is sweet and lovable, and sings life's song on a joyful harmonious string. Out of order or unstrung, there is discordance and unhappiness. Just as there is one key note to all music so there is one key note to health. A woman might as well try to fly without wings as to feel well and look well while the organs that make her a woman are weak or diseased. She must be healthy inside or she can't be healthy outside. There are thousands of women suffering silently all over the country. Mistaken modesty urges their silence. While there is nothing more admirable than a modest woman, health is of the first importance. Every other consideration should give way before it. Bradfield's Female Regulator is a medicine for women's ills. It is the safest and quickest way to cure leucorrhea, falling of the womb, nervousness, headache, backache and general weakness. You will be astonished at the result, especially if you have been experimenting with other so-called remedies. We are not asking you to try an uncertainty. Bradfield's Regulator has made happy thousands of women. What it has done for others it can do for you. Sold in drug stores for $1 a bottle.

A free illustrated book will be sent to all who write to

Lonely Homes

A home is never complete without children. Yet many homes are childless. Many wives are desolate for the lack of a child to love. Their lives are aimless—void of the high motives of motherhood. While barrenness is causing incalculable sadness and sorrow, it exists in most cases on account of some little female trouble, which Wine of Cardui would speedily set right. This pure Wine regulates the "disordered" female organs by building up the worn out nerves and regulating the menstrual flow. It restores the fallen womb to its proper place. By strengthening the generative organs, it makes pregnancy possible where barrenness exists. You can depend on

WINE OF CARDUI

Suffering women all over the land have been depending on it for seventy-five years. No more convincing proof can be given than the testimony of Mrs. Benson, who is only one of thousands of women to whom Wine of Cardui has brought a permanent cure. Many cases of miscarriage—that trouble which robs mothers of their hopes—have been avoided by timely use of the Wine. You are asked to try Wine of Cardui and Theodor's Black-Draught, its companion medicine. Nine out of ten cases of female trouble, barrenness included, yield to them. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Last May I had a miscarriage, which was followed by flooding. I read your Almanac and my husband got me a bottle of Wine of Cardui and it stopped my flooding and restored my fallen womb to its place. Now I am cured after taking three bottles and have another to take which I got this morning. I am expecting to become a mother and Wine of Cardui will be my doctor.

FIGHT WITH TARPON

Big Fish Makes Things Lively for a Little While.

Boarded Its Captor's Boat and Made a Desperate Struggle for Existence—Judge King's Gallant Defense.

William King, of southern Texas, formerly a district judge, knows the tarpon pretty well as a tremendous fighter at the end of a line, a voracious feeder upon smaller fishes and an uncertain adversary until it has been guffed deeply. He also knows as much about the tarpon as a catch-as-catch-can wrestler and clever two-handed pugilist as any man alive.

King, who is small and under weight but pugnacious, gained his knowledge in Arkansas bay. He and a party of friends went after tarpon in a small yacht-like craft that was fast and crank.

The boat was decked over except in the middle, where there was an opening four feet square above the cockpit, in which the party slept and did their eating and drinking. This cockpit has a room nearly as wide as the boat and some ten feet long. Its flooring was six feet below the opening.

Fishing was good, which is to say that every man in the party inside of an hour hung a tarpon or two and let it get away, which is the usual course of events. Finally, a member of the party got a strike, reeled the barb into his foe man as deeply as a strong arm and wrist could send it and the fun began. All of the others reeled in to get their tackle out of the way and watch the fight.

This tarpon, says the New York Sun, was possessed of a devil. It took out 200 feet of silk on its initial rush and the moment it felt the drag went a yard into the air. They saw that it was more than five feet long and the man who was playing it—or being played with—said that it weighed a ton.

The war, with ups and downs, lasted for more than an hour. Thrice the fish was reeled within five feet of the boat and each time broke away. King, who is excitable, had most of the hour danced from stem to stern, shouting advice, exhortation, encouragement and anathema.

When the tarpon was brought in for the fourth time it seemed utterly exhausted. It came heavily within a yard of the taffrail and its head was raised six inches from the water.

The lord high executioner of the band lifted his gaff to deal the fatal blow. With a mighty bound the fish rose from the water and crashed upon the deck. It was near the cockpit and not a foot from King.

With a lightning sweep of the tail it struck him across the knees, knocked him backward into the cockpit and fell after him, landing across his legs. Then, in the semi-darkness of the little cabin, ensued a combat that would have used up 50 pages of Victor Hugo's best work. It was Titanic.

The men above could see little, but they could hear the thud of blows, which fell like hail, the mighty thumps of falls, the rasping of heavy bodies on the planking, snorts, grunts, gasps and ejaculations.

The judge and the tarpon had fought the length of the cabin twice and all around the walls once, when a sailor jumped down with a hatchet and ended the match. There was a good deal of blood and scales everywhere, some of them in King's hair. The fish weighed nearly 120 pounds.

It is not an unheard-of thing for tarpon to leap on board of long-lying craft. There is an instance of a tremendous fellow jumping to the deck of a tugboat near the mouth of the Brazos river. It struck an iron stanchion a half-inch thick, bent it six inches out of plumb and flopped back into the water.

Needs But Little Here Below.
A method of living at little expense has for years been practiced by Rudolphus Bingham, of Merchantville, N. J. His age is now 75, and he spends for food only 75 cents a day. He is healthy, happy and lively, and declares that he has helped to bury many of his acquaintances who ridiculed his system of dieting.

Parisians Date on Snails.
Eight hundred tons of snails were consumed by Parisians last year. The animals are bred in Burgundy and Savoy, where they are kept in inclosures formed of tarred pallings, which they cannot climb over, and are fed upon vine leaves, which give them a delicate flavor.

It All Depends.
A student long ago asked the president of Oberlin college if he could not be permitted to take a shorter course of study.
"Oh, yes," replied the president, "but that depends upon what you want to make of yourself. When God wants to make an oak, he takes a hundred years; but when he wants to make a squash, he takes six months."—Instructor.

That Was All.
Tenderfoot—I understand there was some difference between Cactus Cal and Alkali Ike.
Buck Haas—They's considerable difference. Cal's dead an' Ike's alive.
Tenderfoot—Yes, but what was the original difference between them that led up to the killing?
Buck Haas—Ike was quicker on the trigger, that's all.—Philadelphia Press.

He Did As He Was Bid.
Fair One—Really, I—I am extremely sorry, but I cannot say yes—at present.
Suitor—And yet I dared to hope you loved me.
Fair One—I do, Jack, I do; but yours makes the thirteenth offer I've heard and you know how superstitious I am. You must make me again after I've received another proposal.—Ally Sloper.

His Gentle Hint.
"How much of a salary do you get?" asked the inquisitive diner.
"Oh, I don't get any salary," replied the obsequious waiter. "The gentlemen that dine here are such perfect gentlemen that I don't need any regular salary or wages."
As the diner reached down into his pocket for a tip he was heard to mutter something about curiosity always being costly.—Chicago Post.

A Fine Arrangement.
First Nurse Girl—Seems to me y'r puttin' on a heap o' style drivin in the park with a moneygrammed kerridge, and coachman and footmen, too. Does y'r missus lend ye her private rig?

"Under th' seat."—N. Y. Weekly.

Will Get His Deserts.
Nagrus (literary editor, inspecting manuscript)—Your story is good enough so far as I have got, Boris, except that the hero is rather fine drawn. He's entirely too good for this world.
Boris (struggling author)—I know it, Nagrus. I kill him off in the last chapter.—Chicago Tribune.

Sufficient Reason.
He—So Miss Willing has gone to Europe, has she? I thought she was going to marry young Smitherton.
She—She would have married him but for one thing.
He—And that was—?
She—He didn't ask her.—Chicago Daily News.

Feminine Suspicion.
"Miss Dimplemore says that you are very clever," said the young woman.
"Indeed!" rejoined Miss Cayenne, calmly. "Did she say it by way of intimating that I am not good-looking or to suggest that I am unamiable?"—Washington Star.

TO YOUNG WOMEN

A Denver, Colorado, Young Woman recently Wrote a Letter to Mrs. Pinkham, which Aptly Pictures the Condition of a Great Many Young Women. Read What She Says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—This is the first opportunity I have found to write and thank you for the good your Vegetable Compound has done me. I feel better than I have for years. It seems a 'seven days' wonder' to my friends. Where I used to be pitted, everything is the opposite now, and there is not a day but some one wants to know what I have done to make myself look so well."

"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I had constant headaches, was constipated, bloated, eyes weak and watery, bearing-down pains, pains in the small of my back and right side; took cold very easily, which always caused intense pain in the ovaries, and I did not want to go anywhere or see any one. I was called cross, but I could not help it, feeling as I did. I could not lift anything or do any hard work without suffering for days afterwards. Menstruation lasted for eight or ten days, the first three or four days being almost constant pain day and night."

Nothing in this wide world has relieved so much female suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; no medicine can produce such positive proof of cures and good results; therefore, no other medicine can be "just as good."

Office women are frequently afflicted with sickness brought on by constant work in one position. Perhaps in going to the office, they get their feet wet and sit all day long with damp shoes and stockings.

Nothing in the world is so injurious. Wet feet, hard work, and confined positions have made invalids of a great many robust and ambitious young women.

A Richmond Girl's Experience.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have just purchased a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound but am advised to write you before treating myself."

"I hardly know how to express myself. At times I feel well, and in less than ten minutes I am actually writhed with headache, that tired feeling, and so nervous that the sound of a door bell will make me start. I cannot walk two blocks without feeling fatigued. Menstruation has never been regular, have a slight discharge of leucorrhoea. I would like your advice, and sincerely hope I may find relief in your medicine."—Miss CLARA PORTER, Richmond, Va. (Oct. 26, 1900.)

Statement No. 2.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It gives me great pleasure to thank you for the benefit I received from your Vegetable Compound."

"When I wrote to you I could not go up-stairs or walk a hundred yards without being completely fagged out, but to-day I can easily walk two miles. I was also very nervous and suffered from a misery in my back but these troubles are all a thing of the past. I was at a loss to describe my feelings, but now thanks to your Vegetable Compound I am a well woman."

"I advise all suffering women to write to Mrs. Pinkham, and I shall never fail to recommend your remedies to my friends."—Miss CLARA PORTER, Richmond, Va. (March 26, 1901.)

Miss Thompson's Pains are Cured.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For several years I had suffered with loss of appetite, nausea, vomiting, constipation, palpitation of the heart, headache, pains in nearly all parts of the body. My physician said it was only indigestion, but his medicine did not help me any. I began the use of your Vegetable Compound. I have taken four bottles and now those troubles are cured. I cannot praise it enough."—Miss BELLE S. THOMPSON, Box 14, Acushnet, Mass.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
